

ROBERT WILSON GUILTY OF ASSAULT AND BATTERY

After Four Hours and a Half Deliberation Jury in Manslaughter Case Returned Above Verdict

PRISONER WILL BE SENTENCED LATER

Maximum Penalty is $200 Fine Six Months in Jail and the Minimum $1 Fine—Defendant Smilingly Greets His Friends.

We, the jury in this case, being duly impaneled and sworn to well and truly try and true deliverance make between the State of Ohio and the prisoner at the bar, Robert Wilson, do find that the prisoner at the bar is not guilty as charged in the indictment, but we do find the prisoner guilty of assault and battery.

(Signed)

O. C. MARTIN, Foreman.

With the return of the above verdict by the jury in the Robert Wilson trial, at 5:20 o'clock, the case was brought to a close. The jury retired at 12:50 Friday afternoon, after taking lunch at Kuster & Co.'s restaurant, and remained in the jury room for just four hours and a half.

Judge Robert M. Campbell left the city before the jury reported and the verdict was heard by Judge Seward. In the court room were the defendant and his attorneys and Prosecutor Fitzgibbon, besides a large number of spectators.

Wilson showed no signs of anxiety as the jury filed in to render its finding, and when the foreman, O. C. Martin, presented the verdict to the clerk and it was read, Wilson paid close attention but exhibited no great outward signs of his interest in the report. Later, however, his satisfaction with the verdict was evinced in the smiling greeting extended his attorneys and his friends.

The defendant was dismissed by the court until such time as Judge Campbell should see fit to pronounce sentence, which will probably be some time the first of the week.

The maximum penalty provided by law for the offense of assault and battery is six months in jail or $200 fine or both. The minimum is $1.00 fine.

Large crowds have attended the trial of the case ever since its beginning, and Friday evening when the verdict came in, the spectators' seats were nearly all occupied, while during the four and a half hours of the jury's deliberations interested spectators loitered about the halls of the court house.

Wilson's bond of $3,000, which was required at the preliminary hearing of his case a year ago, extends over the period of his release pending the execution of sentence.

ENDEAVORING TO RECOVER BODIES

New York, Nov. 21.—One hundred and fifty men toiled all night in the debris of the disastrous destruction in the sewer trench at Gold and Front streets, Brooklyn, without recovering any of the 15 or more bodies buried under the tons of earth, rock and timber at bottom of the 47-foot trench. It may be two or three days before the bodies can be reached.

The names of two boys known to be among the victims are John C. Brady, 6, and Vincent Doherty, same age. They were playing on the sidewalk beside the excavation when the explosion and collapse of the excavation of walls buried them down into the pit. Mrs. Brady saw the boys disappear into the cavity and rushed to the brink. A second explosion dislodged part of the sidewalk on which she was standing and hurled her into the debris. She was rescued by Samuel Prout, who lost his life attempting to save another victim.

ALARM

Aphthous Fever is Cause of Deep Concern

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER

Of Animals is Ordered By Government Officials

Veterinarians Are Appalled and Rigorous Action Will be Necessary to Stamp Out Disease.

Danville, Pa., Nov. 1.—A report received last night at the federal and state headquarters, established here by officials investigating the apthous fever among cattle, states that the veterinarians have discovered thirty-five well defined cases of the disease among cattle in Montgomery county in the vicinity of Norristown.

The disease was traced to a carload of 22 cattle shipped into Montgomery county from Buffalo.

Each one of these animals was located and in all 35 cases were found. All infected animals will be killed.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Schech said last night of the state's work that up to the present time more than 1000 cows have been killed, besides many swine.

The veterinarians are greatly alarmed.

The report that five children in this vicinity are victims of the disease is discounted by the statement of Dr. Fox, of the state health department, who came here from Harrisburg.

He examined the children, who are convalescent, and says that it is doubtful if they ever had the disease.

RIGOROUS ACTION.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Alarming results following the outbreak of a contagious foot and mouth disease in New York and Pennsylvania, causing those states to be quarantined against interstate shipment of cattle, etc., were shown today in a report which reached Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. The officials believe that the spread of the contagion will be checked, although all milking that the situation is grave and will require energetic and concerted action by the state and federal authorities.

The order issued by the secretary yesterday, which became effective immediately, makes the quarantine extremely rigid. It even goes so far as to require that "no railroad cars or boats within the area quarantined which have carried live stock, shall be moved interstate until the cars or boats have been cleaned and disinfected with a 5 per cent. solution of carbolic acid."

Shipments of dressed carcasses of calves, sheep and other animals interstate or to foreign countries, are prohibited unless the hides or skin and hoofs are removed. It is required further that when shipments

MANSFIELD'S MAJORITY

Did the Business the Wets Getting Out Their Full Vote

Belmont Election Will be Contested ---Four More Counties to Vote Monday and Tuesday.

OPTION ELECTION RESULTS.

Dry Counties 49
Wet Counties 6

Mansfield, O., Nov. 21.—Richland county held a local option election yesterday under the Rose law, and joined the wet column by a majority of 44 in a vote of 12,024. The total vote in the county was: Dry, 5,990; Wet, 6,034, which is just 302 votes less than were cast in the county at the late presidential election.

The city of Mansfield gave a wet majority of 1,290, while the village of Shelby went dry by 129. The fight was a hard and bitter one, but the great majority of the business men of Mansfield supported the Wets.

Both sides claimed a victory up to the time of the closing of the polls, but it was apparent that the Wets had the best organization. Much literature and newspaper advertising were used by both sides during the strenuous two weeks of the campaign.

Three-fourths of the people of the city turned out last night to read the bulletins of the result and there was wild enthusiasm as the precincts reported.

Six counties of the fifty-five that have so far voted on the Rose county local option law have gone wet.

PLATFORM COLLAPSED

CONTAINING 100 YOUNG GIRLS, AND FOURTEEN WERE WERE HURT.

One of the injured may die — Wild Panic Followed Crash—All Ambulances in City Called.

Dayton, Nov. 21.—A platform bearing over 100 girls employed at the Mercantile corporation's plant in this city, collapsed late yesterday afternoon while the girls were being photographed, precipitating its burden to the ground. Fourteen were more or less injured, but all stopped death and but three were seriously hurt. They are:

Miss Clara Ziegler, leg broken and internally injured; may die.
Bertha M. Snowball, hip injured.
Grace Wilson, a broken arm.

A wild panic ensued after the crash and all the ambulances in the city were soon on the scene, where fragments of the girls' coats were found for their loved ones. It is considered more than probable that no more injuries resulted. As to from the mentioned, only bruises were reported as having been sustained by the other girls on the platform.

Abraham Moore, who sat up the platform, was caught in the wreckage and severely injured.

Philanthropist Has Secretary Write for Information Concerning City's Needs and What Assistance it Will Render

CITY MUST MAINTAIN THE BUILDING

Interest Manifested by All Classes of Citizens Indicate That Present Public Library is Greatly Appreciated.

Since the organization of the new Public Library in Newark, many times has the question been asked: Will Andrew Carnegie erect a library building and give it to the city of Newark?

Nobody seemed to be able to answer the question, but many expressed the belief that Mr. Carnegie would be as generous to Newark as to other cities throughout the land where Carnegie libraries are now established.

Last April the Advocate addressed a letter of inquiry to Mr. Carnegie, stating what had been done to start a public library in this city. The following reply from Mr. Carnegie's private secretary, Mr. James Bertram, has just been received.

Dear Sir—Yours of April 17th received. If Newark, Ohio, has no library, building and desires Mr. Carnegie's assistance in obtaining one, those interested should have the proper authorities address him on this subject, stating what the city is willing to do for its part.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES BERTRAM,
Private Secretary.

More Facts About Olive Oil

Cleanliness is a matter of especial interest to every consumer of food and medicine. In the manufacture of any oil, when the difficulties encountered are considered, the matter of cleanliness and absolutely sanitary conditions is of especial importance. There is no country where these matters are given so much consideration as ours, and no more conspicuous example could be selected than the home of "Sylmar" Brand Olive Oil. It was here a few months ago that an inspector after giving the entire plant and premises the closest scrutiny declared that in 20 years work as inspector this was the only plant of this kind with which he could find no fault. Such an example could not be found in any country importing Olive Oil here. On the contrary a little reflection would satisfy the thoughtful that amentirely different condition exists. We sell "Sylmar" Brand Olive Oil exclusively.

Much Water Consumed.

Few people realize the vast amount of water that is used daily in Newark. Most of that consumed in the factories, offices, homes, saloons and other places passes through pipes into the sewers and then into the main sewer, where it forms almost a raging torrent as it swirls through it to the Licking river. A considerable amount is disposed of in other ways, thrown on lawns and gardens and given animals for drink.

Damaging Meadow Fire.

One of the most serious grass fires that has occurred in Licking county during the present unprecedented dry weather, swept over the farm of Samuel Pence, on the southwestern part of the county. The T. & O. C. railroad passes the farm, and a spark from a locomotive set fire to the grass in several different places. The fire spread with great activity and threatened to destroy the house and outbuildings. A large number of the farmers residing in the neighborhood hurried to the scene and with the assistance of the T. & O. C. section men succeeded in controlling the fire after several hours hard work. Some eight or ten acres of meadow and a large number of corn shocks were burned.

HON. W. A. ARHBROOK WILL BE ON PUBLIC BUILDING COMMITTEE

(Wayne County Democrat.) Congressman Ashbrook has received assurance from Champ Clark, who will be the new Democratic floor leader, that he will be appointed as a member of the committee on public buildings. This will make the way easier for our congressman to get the appropriation for the new federal building at Wooster. While there never was any doubt that Wooster would get the building, yet it is a satisfaction to have our congressman have this honor of being on the committee. He will also get a building for Coshocton. Wooster residents have had the promise of their representatives for years for some recognition, but the building was never forthcoming. It is merely another illustration of the fact that our congressman can do things.

In another article the Wayne County Democrat comments on the above as follows:
"The way for Wooster to make certain of the public building is to give Congressman Ashbrook your glad hand. He has it in his power to get the building, having the assurance of the Democratic leader of the house that he will be put on the committee on new buildings. Congressman Ashbrook makes no promises he cannot fulfill, and when he made the promise of a new building he had the power in his hands to get the appropriation. Yet no man feels like giving anything to an ungrateful person. Wooster should wake up to the value of this gift, and show their appreciation in any way possible. It is not politics, but the good of the town. Congressman Ashbrook has been elected now, and whatever he does for Wooster will be done to benefit the county and not for political purposes."

Fine Arts of 8,000 Years Ago.

(New York World.)
In an interesting and extraordinarily complete collection of ancient Egyptian amulets which has just been placed on exhibition in the Brooklyn Institute Museum are some works of art which would credit to the most skillful of our modern sculptors. When it is considered that many of these were made as early as 3000 B. C., and some of them as far back as 6000 B. C.—before even Abraham was born—one cannot but wonder what sort of civilization must have existed in those days. There is the face of a lioness carved in stone that would do credit to Barye; there are tiny bronze figures of Isis, Osiris and Horus that are as perfect in their proportions and as strong in their conception as any of the masterpieces of Rodin; there are alligators, turtles, cats and other animals which resemble nothing so much as the best work of the Japanese, and there are carved jades and turquoise which Boutet de Mon-vel or any of the present-day designers of jewelry in Paris might take as their models.

In arranging this probably unique collection Prof. W. H. Goodyear wisely placed in the very center of one of the cases a pair of the chisels with which such carvings were made, chisels that he says are 8000 years old—and they are made of copper!
The metallurgist of today who could so temper copper as to make a chisel of it would not only earn a fortune but would hand his name down to posterity alongside of that of Bessomer, yet he would but be reviving an art which was a commonplace to these ancient Egyptians, and probably to the ancestors of our own American Indians.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Newark People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.
It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, For Newark kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation.
Proof lies in the testimony of Newark people who have been cured to stark cured.

Charles W. Manville, residing at 7 Lansing Block, Newark, Ohio, says:
"I had a severe attack of grippe which weakened my kidneys and as a result I suffered from pains in my back and a disordered condition of my kidney secretions. There was a constant dull aching in my back and through my loins, accompanied by sharp shooting twinges which annoyed me both day and night. I tried numerous remedies but obtained only temporary relief and was gradually becoming run down in health. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Crayton's drug store, began using them and the result was a complete cure." (From statement given Nov.
10, 1904.)

CONFIRMED PROOF.

On Nov. 26, 1907, Mr. Manville said:
"I am pleased to reiterate my former testimonial in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills, as the results I obtained from their use have proven permanent.
Doan's Kidney Pills acted so promptly in my case that I have the greatest confidence in them."

For a single performance at the Auditorium theater Tuesday, November 24, Henry B. Harris will offer "Mr. Edgar Selwyn in 'Pierre of the Plains,' the play in which Mr. Selwyn has been appearing for a considerable time at the Hudson theater, New York, and in which he has scored a big popular hit. Mr. Selwyn appears as author-actor inasmuch as he is responsible for his present vehicle, which, by the way, is not an ordinary dramatization of a book story but rather takes simply as its foundation the short stories of Sir Gilbert Parker, known as 'Pierre and His People,' and particularly 'She of the Three Cheyrons.'

"A Message from Mars," which has been seen here before, and will be seen here again at the Auditorium theatre Wednesday and Thursday, November 25 and 26, with a special Thanksgiving matinee, is one of those kind of plays that provide food for thought, although it is by no means a problem play yet it deals with a serious problem—that of selfishness.
The play, in fact, may be regarded as a remedy for the cure of selfishness.
"A Message from Mars" is well and favorably known to theatergoers here, it having made an indelible impression in the minds of all who saw it.

"Salvation Nell," New Play Notable Theatrical Event

(By Sarah Barriek Walker.)

New York, Nov. 20.—The appearance of Mrs. Fiske, on Tuesday night of this week, in her new play, "Salvation Nell," marks a notable event of the theatrical season. The Hackett Theatre was filled to its utmost capacity with a representative and enthusiastic audience—though it seems doubtful if the play will commend itself to the majority of theatregoers.
Mrs. Fiske, herself, in the character of Salvation Nell, is as magnetic as ever. She seems to be dragging many of the mannerisms which formerly marked some of her best work.
Her enunciation, for one thing, is much more distinct. She cannot be said to act the part; she lives it, and at times the air is electric was suppressed emotion.

"Salvation Nell" is the first production of a very youthful playwright and he seems to be having his ears boxed by the critics in a very thoroughgoing way. He is accused of a sordid realism which knows no uplift of inspiration or imagination though his severest critics do not deny the keenness of his observation or the photographic accuracy of his detail.

In the first place, to swing the action of the play, a caste of forty-two people is required. The stage settings are marvelous. If to Mr. Edward Sheldon, late—that is very lately—of Harvard, the squalor and sordidness and meanness of a large part of the city's life make a strong appeal, it is small wonder.
These neighborhoods exist; the squalor is there. The point seems to be, dramatically speaking, that it does not do to present this phase of life to people who have come in their best clothes to be amused.
It cannot be said, however, that the opening night's performance was not well received. Time after time was Mrs. Fiske recalled after the first act. It really seemed as if the curtain would never be pulled.

At length she came to the end of the manifestly reluctant Mr. Sheldon. It is not difficult to believe that the exceedingly brief curtain speech he delivered gave him more heart burnings and difficulties than the writing of the entire play. An incident in connection with it did not tend to help matters.
His first words were to the gallant effect that any success his play might attain would be due the genius of Mrs. Fiske. Whereat certain of her admirers in the house started to applaud. The third balcony resented this interruption and took prompt measures to subdue it. For just a moment the theatre was filled with hissings and cries of "shut up" but

DON'T BLAME HER

For she cannot help it. Women are often cross, irritable, hysterical, and declare they are driven to distraction at the slightest provocation.
Men cannot understand why this should be so. To them it is a mystery because in nine times out of ten this condition is caused by a serious feminine derangement.

A remedy is necessary which acts directly upon the organs affected, restoring a healthy normal condition to the feminine system, which will quickly dispel all hysterical, nervous and irritable conditions. Such is
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND
The following letter serves to prove this fact.
Mrs. Mattie Copenhaver, 315 So.
21st St., Parsons, Kans., writes: "For two years I suffered from the worst forms of feminine ills, until I was almost driven frantic. Nothing but morphine would relieve me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness and made me a well woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.
Why don't you try it?
Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice.
She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

that moment was a painful one to live through. The already thoroughly uncomfortable author, struggling through his debut, took this demonstration to himself, with the inevitable result.

As I say, comment on all sides at the time seemed favorable and it was more or less of a surprise to come upon the critics' views in the morning papers. However, it is one of the things which time will tell. Sordid the play may be—and undoubtedly is—there may exist for it little excuse, artistically speaking. For myself, I do not presume to offer even an opinion of its merits but I do know that from first to last you are held spellbound—not so much with dramatic interest as with the human interest. The third act is like looking through a window upon a street full of people, who are apparently going their several ways without design or premeditation. Crowds gather and disperse; ragged children play at jack-stones on the sidewalk; slat-terly women lean from windows high overhead and mingle shrilly in the affairs of the street. Fire-escapes testify to usages for which they were never designed. A flaring gas burner throws more shadow than light upon the corner fruit stand. A delicatessen shop displays its wares. A loan office offers relief to those not already "relieved." The lure of two brilliantly lighted saloons is the potent factor in the neighborhood and set over against these is the steady glow of the two lamps which mark the entrance to Salvation Army quarters. Oh there is no doubt as to its being real—but artistic?

Due, I presume, to the elaborate staging, the waits between acts were usually long and this gave opportunity for observing the audience, which was a brilliant one, in point of beautiful gowns, soft colors and luxurious fabrics.

Several new tendencies were manifest: none more remarkable than the vogue of a soft yellow. One particularly beautiful dress in this shade was of chiffon-broadcloth, with coat of Ottoman silk, in same shade. It was made with inconvertible collar and long, close fitting sleeves, laid in wide folds, and was cut in postillion style.
With this gown was worn a smart round turban, which set well down upon the head and was of rust-color beaver with plumage to match.

The use of the metal tissues—gold especially—is quite pronounced. The smardest of evening hats are covered with it, faced, usually, with black and fringed with black or white plumes or with gold and silver roses. By the way, the very newest jabot (so new, in fact, that it has not yet left the hands of the manufacturer) is made of gold lace, in combination with Irish crochet.

In one of the boxes there was an astounding bodice, which would never have been attempted in any other season. Half of it was black; the other half white. The material was India satin and the black half was overlaid with white chenille embroidery and the white half was overlaid with black and the joining at center front and back was effected with such subtle art that the result was really not bad.

The evening coat of today (or shall I say tonight?) is the easiest garment in the wardrobe to make at home. It is invariably in cape form and when made of broadcloth, unlined, the edges are left free. It hangs in straight lines and may be as simple as possible. A good many of the real Chinese and Japanese coats, of silk and heavily embroidered are converted into the prettiest possible evening and carriage wraps and when fur-lined, they are desirable for even the coldest weather.

Today there is no region of the earth so remote as to escape being taxed for the wearing apparel of miladi of fashion.

PAYING FOR A MEAL.

It Was Worth About a Shilling to Pick Those Bones.

Colonel Ebenezer Sproat of Revolutionary fame was born and bred in Middleboro, Mass. He was always fond of a joke and was quick to seize an opportunity to indulge his propensity, as the following incident illustrates. His father, also a Colonel Sproat, kept a tavern. One day while Ebenezer was at home on a furlough three private soldiers, on their return from the seat of war, called for a cold lucehon.

Mrs. Sproat set on the table some bread and cheese with the remnants of the family dinner, which her son thought rather scanty fare for hungry men. He felt a little vexed that the defenders of the country were not more bountifully supplied. The soldiers, after satisfying their appetites, asked him how much they should pay.
Ebenezer said he would ask his mother. He found her in the kitchen.
"Mother," he said, "how much is it worth to pick those bones?"
"About a shilling, I guess," she answered.

The young officer returned to the soldiers and, taking from the barroom till 3 shillings and smiling genially upon them, gave each man one and with good wishes sent them on their way.
Mrs. Sproat soon after came in and asked Ebenezer what he had done with the money for the soldiers' dinner.
In apparent amazement he exclaimed: "Money! Did I not ask you what it was worth to pick those bones, and you said a shilling? I thought it little enough, for the bones were pretty bare, and I handed the men the money from the till, and they are gone."

Mrs. Sproat could not find heart to reprove her favorite son for this misinterpretation of her words, and then she, too, loved a joke, and so, after an instant's glum look, she laughed and said it was all right.

PUT AN END TO INDIGESTION

GIVE YOUR STOMACH A GOOD EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDI-GESTION OR MISERY.

Diapepsin Tastes Like Candy Though Rids You of Stomach Trouble and Makes You Feel Fine.

As there is often someone in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep a case of Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and regulate a sour stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why they cure indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, and prevent at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion with the common everyday cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which will putrefy in the entire digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

One candy-like Triangle, taken after eating, will promptly digest all your food, the same as a strong, healthy stomach would do it.

May Again be Plunged Into Warfare —Insurgents are Very Active.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Nov. 21.—With most of the Haytian army mobilized and troops pouring into the province of Les Cayes from everywhere, news of a sanguinary encounter between loyal forces under General Celestin and General Leconte and insurgents under General Antoine Simon, are momentarily expected.

While government officials declare that there is no real danger of the revolutionary movement becoming general and insists that General Simon's forces are meager and poorly armed, those most cognizant of the situation fear that the entire island is to be again plunged into warfare.

Pathetic
On his face
As the case
Of the little girl
Whose big brother
Has just discovered
That she has an apple Yes, all of that
When the fat
And prominent citizen Arises to move
His first speech in public.
Behold
On his brow the cold
Sweat
The muscles of his neck set,
His hands clenched tight, Ready for a fight.
While in his heart
He meditates flight
First on one foot he stands, His chest expands
His breath comes short
And quick and there is a sort Of feeling that the world Is slipping away
He starts to say
The words he had learned With toil and pain
But they have taken the train For nowhere.
Vanished in the air
And left alone
A message crying
That he would not be back.
You've been there?
No.
Well, that's one part of the show You've seen.
It looks easy
As watching in the hay, It isn't any such thing.

KNOCKED OUT IN THE SECOND

Mike Kelly of this city floored by Ted Clark in Show Room.

Knocked out in the second round by Ted Clark in Show Room.

Clark, just 4 minutes and 45 seconds after the gong was sounded.

Kelly, clearly outclassed put up a game fight during the first round, but in the second Clark forced matters and a stiff jolt on Kelly's jaw staggered him to such an extent that he staggered into a crushing right hander that sent him to the floor for a count.

About 25 people from Newark accompanied Kelly to Columbus. The fight, in which the break rules were used, was refereed by Mr. Jackie Sontal of this city.

How to Make Curative Salves.
Bitter Sweet Salve.—Scrape the bark from about a gallon of bitter sweet roots, cover well with water and boil down until a pint remains. Strain and add one pound each of lard, resin and beeswax. Melt together and to this mixture add two pounds of mutton fat-low. Boil all until thick, then pour into tin boxes and keep in a cool place.
This salve is good for milk scald, scald head or eruptions of any kind that should be healed.

For Chapped Lips.—Take some marrow out of fresh beef bones, add a piece of white wax the size of a biccorn nut, melt together, remove from the fire and add a piece of gum camphor the size of the wax and an ounce of glycerin. Stir until the camphor is dissolved. Add a few drops of oil of roses.

A Salve For Burns.—Stew together a pound each of lard, resin and beeswax. When thick add two bottles of juniper tar.

How to Make Frozen Pudding.
For frozen pudding take one pint of milk, two cupsful of granulated sugar, a scant half cupful of flour, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of gelatin, one quart of cream, one pound of candied fruit, four tablespoonfuls of wine. Let the milk come to a boil, beat the flour, one cupful of sugar and the eggs together and stir into the boiling milk.
Cook twenty minutes and add the gelatin, which has been soaking one or two hours in water enough to cover it.
Set away to cool. When cool add the wine, sugar and cream. Freeze ten minutes, then add the candied fruits and finish freezing. Take out the beater, pack in a melon mold in salt and ice for an hour. Serve with whipped cream.

How to Cook Chicken a la Creole.
To cook chicken a la Creole select a tender young chicken, cut it into the usual frieze pieces, roll it in flour that has been seasoned with salt and pepper and fry it in fat until it is brown and tender. Keep the chicken hot while the sauce is making. For the sauce fry a minced slice of onion in two tablespoonfuls of butter and stir in a tablespoonful of flour. When all are nicely browned add one of the Spanish red peppers which come in rings (they are known as pimientos), two cupfuls of tomatoes, a bit of bay leaf and a piece of thyme. Stir until the sauce thickens. Then add the chicken and simmer very slowly for a few minutes.

YOUR BEST FURS.

How to Keep Them Looking New and Fresh.

Keeping white furs clean is like keeping linens looking fresh, for both need much attention and frequent cleansings. Of course, if women can afford to have furriers do this work they need not be so particular about preventing their muffs, collarettes or sapes from getting soiled, but when the cleansing must be done at home too much care cannot be taken to keep them clean, for the process of cleaning ermine, coney, Angora or any of the white furs, real or imitation, is a long, tedious one, that takes much strength.
To begin with, they must be put out on a line and well sunned and aired for a day or two, then they must be whipped gently yet firmly with a rattan stick until no dust flies when they are pounded, says the Washington Star.

When the loose dirt is out the furs may again be hung on a line in the sunshine, while a bath of white sand and furrier's sawdust, mixed half and half, is heated in an oven. When hot the pieces must be put into this cleanser and the sand and sawdust rubbed well into the fur. The sand when hot loosens the grease and dirt from the fur and the sawdust absorbs it. If after one such rubbing the fur does not look as clean as is desired the process should be repeated. When the dirt is out the garment or muff must again be pounded with a ratan stick to get out the sand and sawdust.
Following this beating the fur should be placed in a pan filled with cornstarch or plaster of paris, which must be rubbed thoroughly into it.
After either whitener has been worked well into the pieces the furs must again be put out of doors and whipped with a stick to get out the white dust, for if not shaken or beaten the plaster of paris or cornstarch will rub off on the clothing, which is unpleasant.

With chinchilla little can be done toward cleansing, except a gentle beating with a ratan stick. And this whipping must be lightly done, for the skin is so fine and tears so easily that a woman cannot be too careful in the beating, and the best plan is to have them cleaned by a furrier.

Reaver, mink and many of the furs with heavy skins are cleaned exactly as are the ermine and other white pieces, with the exception of the final rubbing on of cornstarch or plaster of paris. The first beating to get out the dust, the airing and bath of white sand and sawdust must be given these furs to properly cleanse them. Pony coats may be successfully cleaned in the same way.

With the heavy long furs, such as Alaska sable, racoon and opossum, the airing and pounding with a heavy rattan stick are essential, but the hot sawdust and sand are omitted for the use of a comb with short teeth, known as a "furrier's comb."

Sables, like chinchillas, must be carefully treated, and the safest plan is to send them to an expert when they need cleaning.

How to Care For Ostrich Plumes.
A woman who believes it a good investment to buy handsome ostrich plumes gives her secret of keeping them free from moths when the feathers are not in use. She puts them in glass jars, securely fastened. If while this she first sprinkles them with magnesia and wraps the jars in blue paper. This prevents their changing color at all.

INTERESTING EXERCISES

Held at Sanitarium When Nurses Were Graduated from Training School.

Interesting exercises were held at the Newark Sanitarium, West Main street, Thursday night, when a class of nurses were graduated from the Nurses' Training School of that institution. The class was composed of Harry T. Byers, Knightstown, Ind.; J. W. Lechler, Marion, O.; and Miss Alma Rudolph, Allegheny, Pa. Only the "Sanitarium family" were present at the exercises, which were greatly enjoyed. Interesting papers were read, among them being one by Miss Carrie Leach, head nurse at the Sanitarium. Addresses were made by A. J. Kennedy and J. D. Montgomery. The class just graduated has been a very efficient one, and the graduates have shown marked ability in their chosen profession.

A Paying Investment.
Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone the cold was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at F. D. Hall's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE BARBER OF SEVILLE."

Remove Mme. Baldini and John Dunsmuir from the cast of "The Barber of Seville" as produced here last night at the Auditorium theatre, and you have nothing left but the opera itself. Both Mme. Baldini and Mr. Dunsmuir are rare singers. The former a dramatic soprano of good appearance and a beautiful voice—what remains. Her exceptional control is a notable feature of her singing. Especially was her singing of the special numbers in the third act enjoyed. Mr. Dunsmuir is a robust baritone of great ability, understands the role and sang that delightful baritone.

sible people who know how to behave. It should be stopped even at the exclusion of the entire gallery crowd. The smallest country town would exhibit more consideration for a dog than the rowdies at these gallery melees show for the people in the audience and the performers.

B. B. H.

THE PRESS AGENT SAYS: The Auditorium management has seemed for tonight's attraction, several good vaudeville acts, introducing the Rosette quartet in a harmonious rendering of the popular songs of the day.

There will be a good acrobatic turn.

Scene from "Paid in Full" at Auditorium Monday Night.

favorite, "The Cellar's Torture" with delightful effect, receiving four encores.

"The Barber of Seville" is replete with beautiful music, typical of the style of its composer, that master, Rossini. In last night's performance here several of the good numbers of the opera were cut while those that were used were poorly used, excepting again the work of Mme. Baldini and the real violin solo introduced by the musical director of the company.

It is a shame that many hoodlums in the gallery seem beyond the control of the Auditorium officers. Admitting that these crowds are usually composed of youngsters of the age of extreme cuteness, it is strange that there is no one capable of restraining them from those annoying outbursts that are sure to come at the crucial point of dramatic work and artistic display in about every good, or even fair, performance seen here. It is annoying to those who are trying to enjoy the performance and to all sensible people who know how to behave.

Mr. Edgar Selwyn, who has won a great deal of popularity because of the great excellence of his performance of a number of important roles, notably "Jacky" with Ethel Barrymore in "Sunday," Jose with Maude Adams in "The Pretty Sister of Jose," Tony in "Arizona," and more recently the star of "Strongheart," will be seen at the Auditorium theatre Tuesday, November 24th in "Pier of the Plains."

"A Message from Mars," the splendid comedy which was seen here on a previous occasion, will be offered again at the Auditorium theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, November 25 and 26, with special Thanksgiving matinee. This play has had a remarkable history. It has been one of the most successful comedies seen in the United States for many years. It has earned money enough to make three men independently rich.

Just a gentle reminder that there will be another fine show at the Orpheum the first three days of next week. The feature act will be the three Bothwell Sisters in a singing and dancing act that is attracting a great deal of attention all over the circuit. Others on the bill are Chantrell and Schuyler in a comedy act that is sure to make you laugh. Gertrude and Robert Day in a high class musical act. Also May Mulligan, the comedienne. With new pictures and song the patrons are sure to be entertained for the first half of next week at this popular little play house. The bill that is there now is still attracting large crowds and all those who have not seen it should do so tonight, as this is your last chance.

The extra attraction at the Orpheum, Friday night, was Brown & Garrison's hoop rolling and juggling act. The two are local men and they put on a very clever act that was greeted by prolonged applause.

SCHILDKRETT'S HUNGARIAN ORCHESTRA.

BIBLE

On Which Washington Was Obligated a Mason Restored to Lodge at Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 21. A copy of the famous "Bible" which was used in London in 1793, and sent to the identical book on which George Washington was initiated as a Master Mason, was restored last night to the lodge of the Grand Lodge of the Province of Quebec, which is now in session in Montreal.

And quite lately, a copy of the "Bible" which was used in the lodge of the Grand Lodge of the Province of Quebec, which is now in session in Montreal.

Unfortunately, the copy is not always spotless.

The trouble with the man who is not used with himself is that he is so often displeased with others.

At a regular meeting of Newark lodge, No. 13, held Thursday night, there was a good attendance of the members. The Page rank was conferred on one candidate in the usual impressive manner. Next Thursday night the Esquire rank will be conferred. It is hoped that a good attendance will be present at this meeting, it being the first nomination of officers for the ensuing term. Bro. Hall, chancellor commander of Courtney lodge, Sandusky, Ohio, was present, and gave the lodge an interesting talk.

Modern Woodmen of America.

Cedar Camp, No. 4127, met Monday night with all officers and 63 of the members present. A short business session was held, in which four applications for beneficial membership were balloted upon and elected to membership. Three candidates for beneficial membership were found in waiting, S. E. Alresman, G. H. Morris and D. R. Radebaugh, who were made members of Cedar Camp. After the regular session was over, camp closed without form and all prepared to the lodge room, where the doors were thrown open to an open meeting and a very interesting program, consisting of recitations, addresses and songs, was rendered. On Monday night, Dec. 14, another class will be adopted. The work will be put on that night, also a fancy drill by the Forester team, and after the work is over, refreshments will be served. Neighbors, bear in mind that the camp is going to give a turkey supper to the members who have secured the adoption of a beneficial member. If you cannot secure the candidate whom you think is a good prospect, telephone in to the clerk, who will notify Deputy Brandriff, and if he secures the adoption of your prospect, you will be given the credit for it and you will be entitled to the turkey supper.

At the conclusion of the work a fine banquet was partaken of, after which the Newark contingent boarded the special car that was in waiting and returned to their homes in Newark, well pleased with their visit.

How To Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 West Congress street, Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine, about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. DO YOU KNOW—

That it takes only one to make a quarrel when that one is what is known as a third person?

That success is sweet, but sometimes the sweetening quality is about the consistency and flavor of black strap?

That persistency is a horrid quality when it is found in a person you don't like bent on interfering with your affairs?

That where ignorance is peace it is quite often profitable to get wise?

That a rolling stone is a smooth one and a mossback a back number?

That the early bird takes his chances with the toward and the barn owl?

That while the worm may turn it probably will be only to get it on the other side of his head?

That you never miss the water till the well runs dry, and not then if you chance to live in moonshine territory.

That there is no place like home, for which some exiles thereof are most devoutly thankful?

That, while it takes money to make the more go, most any old thing will have that effect on money.
